

UPDATE #14

5/23/23

Now We Wait!

And pray and believe in the power of God's will.

Our work as a committee and a congregation has brought us to this point in the call process. Our open position is in an active phase of being posted (still to come in print in June) and on Facebook Wednesday morning.

We have prepared and continue to prepare ourselves for receiving and reviewing ministerial profiles and resumes. We continue to talk about the themes of the Listening Sessions and how we might discern the qualities in each candidate most closely aligning with our church.

I will continue to provide weekly updates and, in the meantime, would you consider sharing Julie's announcement from her Facebook page (dropping this Wednesday), to spread the message we are in an active search and call process? More views, more shares, greater possibilities! Thank you.
